ONE MAN SLAIN, TWO WOUNDED IN GANG WAR

Policeman Killed in Clash in Brooklyn Rum Traffic.

50 SHOTS FIRED

Charles "Vannis" Higgins, Alleged Chief-tain Arrested.

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—One policeman was killed and two civilians wounded in a gang-war flare-up in Brooklyn early today. The gun battle lasted several minutes, 50 or 60 shots being fired. Eleven revolvers and three sawed-off shotguns were found in the gutters when the battle was over.

Patrolman Walked Into Battle.

The police believe that the outbreak was the result of a clash in bootlegging traffic. They have arrested Charles "Vannis" Higgins, whom they say they captured while he was fleeing from the scene of the shooting. Higgins is reported to own a fleet of taxicabs, the fast motor boat "Cigarette," said to be used in rum-running, and to operate speak-easies both in this city and in Baltimore.

The slain patrolman, Daniel Maloney, was off duty and in plain clothes at the time he was killed. He was shot through the heart, police report. It is believed that he walked innocently into the battle and was not associated with either of the gangs in the battle.

The two wounded men are Thomas Connell, 31, and Harold Richards, 41, both of Brooklyn. Connell received a bullet in the left leg; Richards was shot in the left shoulder. Both were removed to Norwegian hospital.

Policeman Fires One Shot.

Investigation revealed that Patrolman Maloney was strolling along with Connell, a close friend, when the opposing faction of gunmen slipped from the shadows of surrounding doorways and opened fire. Maloney had time to fire only one shot before he was killed.

More than 25 bullets were dug from the walls of buildings in front of which Connell and Maloney were passing at the time of the attack. Police were at a loss to explain the presence of Connell's henchmen who returned the fire of the opposing gang.

A. ROSS MERCER, AGED 51, DIES

Albert Ross Mercer, 51, died today in his home in Shadyside avenue, after a year's illness of complications.

Mr. Mercer, who was a member of the Modern Woodmen of the World, leaves his widow and three children, John, Annis and Eileen; four brothers, Howard Mercer, East Liverpool; Hazel Mercer, Layland, O.; Harold Mercer, Chagrin Falls, and Ira Mercer, Barnesville.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, in charge of the Rev. W. O. Hawkins, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

A. A. EBERSOLE ROTARY'S GUEST

A. A. Ebersole, who has been in charge of the Young Men's Christian association at Lodz, Poland since early in 1923, addressed the Rotarians and their guests at the weekly luncheon in the Y. M. C. A. today.

Ebersole, who has been in close touch with the political and economic situation in Europe for several years, spoke on "A New Way in Old Europe." He was introduced by Wilbur H. Nagel, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A.

WILLIAM FARRELL DIES; AGED 70

William Farrell, 70, retired sagger-maker, of 214 West Sixth street, died in the City hospital at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon following several months' illness.

Mr. Farrell had spent a greater part of his life in East Liverpool. He leaves one son Patrick, of this city, and two sisters in Cleveland.

He was a member of the St. Aloysius Catholic church.

UNION PRAYER SERVICE TONIGHT

Union prayer meeting of a group of downtown churches sponsoring the convention of the Defenders of Christian Faith, which will be held in the First United Presbyterian church, beginning Easter Sunday, will be conducted in the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The service will be led by Charles Bowman, layman from the First Methodist Protestant church.

REGION WINNER

Miss Helen Yochim, Lisbon high school junior, will represent the west region in the tri-state high school oratorical contest to be held in the Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburgh, April 19. Miss Yochim, carrying the colors of Columbiana county, was a winner over five other county champions at Steubenville last night.

OHIOAN KILLS FORMER WIFE, TAKES POISON

Woman's Husband Narrowly Escapes Volley Of Bullets.

NEWARK TRAGEDY Slayer Drops Dead After Surrendering To Police.

NEWARK, O., March 19.—John H. Frazier, 53, shot and killed his former wife, Mrs. Louella Belle Kennedy, 31, here today, then took poison and dropped dead after surrendering to police, saying, "I'm the man you're looking for."

Frank Kennedy, the woman's husband, witnessed the shooting and narrowly escaped a volley of three bullets fired at him.

Believed crazed by jealousy, Frazier went to the home of the Kennedys at 5:20 o'clock this morning. As he approached the house, Kennedy was starting to work.

The man fired three shots at Kennedy and then entered the house, placed the revolver against the woman's back and pulled the trigger, the bullet shattering the spinal cord and entering the heart. Mrs. Kennedy died instantly.

Leaving the home, Frazier then swallowed a dose of poison, and as authorities arrived gave himself up. He died within a few minutes.

Mrs. Kennedy is the divorced wife of Frazier, who was a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

According to court records, the Fraziers were divorced a year ago. During their marriage, Frazier charged that his wife had been intimate with Kennedy while he was at work.

Mrs. Kennedy, then Mrs. Frazier, took poison at the time but did not die from the effects.

Dock Foreman Drowns in Lake.

CLEVELAND, O., March 19.—Funeral services were being arranged today for Robert Green, 61, a dock foreman, who was drowned late yesterday when he fell into Lake Erie while directing the unloading of a cargo of ore.

He is believed to have suffered a heart attack.

LISBON ORATOR WINS CONTEST IN WEST ZONE

Miss Helen Yochim Victor Over Five Others.

HALE IS FOURTH

Columbiana County Girl Enters Pittsburgh Meet.

Miss Helen Yochim, Lisbon high school junior, will represent the west region in the tri-state high school oratorical contest on the constitution of the United States, to be held in Pittsburgh April 19, as the result of her victory over five other county champions in the courthouse at Steubenville last night.

Two ballots were required in the selection of a victor, the Lisbon girl being tied with Edmund Sargus of the Central Catholic high school, Wheeling, Ohio county's entry, in the first vote.

While no official announcement as to the placing of the other contestants was made, Francis A. Hale, Chester, Hancock county's champion, is reported to have been given fourth honors. Sargus was second and John Hanusak, Toronto, Jefferson county entry, was third.

E. E. Hale Presides.

Two hundred and fifty persons witnessed the contest. E. E. Hale, Fairmont, W. Va., superintendent of the Marion county schools, presided. The judges were Dr. L. P. Dieg, University of Pittsburgh; Attorney John A. Briley, Pittsburgh, and Miss Amanda Z. Strayer, city solicitor, Steubenville. Music was in charge of the Steubenville school orchestra.

Miss Yochim, who won Columbiana county honors over entrants from Salem and "Neveille, spoke on "The Origins of the Constitution." Hale, winner in Hancock county championship in a four-cornered contest, discussed "The Treaty-Making Powers Under the Constitution."

Contestants and Subjects.

The other contestants and the subjects were: Miss Dorothy Olive Frazier, of East Washington, (Pa.) High school, representing Washington county, "Theodore Roosevelt and the Constitution;" Miss Laura M. Lang, of Cameron, (W. Va.) High school, Marshall county, "The Constitution in the Daily Life of the Individual;" Edmund Sargus, of Central Catholic High school, Wheeling, W. Va., representing Ohio county, "The Constitution, a Guarantee of the Liberty of the Individual;" John Hanusak, of Toronto High school, Jefferson county, Ohio, "The Constitution in the Daily Life of the Individual."

NO ONE INJURED IN TWO CRASHES

No one was injured when an automobile driven by Mrs. W. H. Wines, Riley avenue, crashed into the rear end of a parked River Road bus at St. George and Mulberry streets, at 4:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The bus, driven by B. C. Garvin, had stopped to discharge passengers when the crash occurred. It was not damaged, but the radiator, one fender and one headlight on the Wines machine were damaged.

Sedan, driven by Karl J. Krug, Ravine street, was damaged when it crashed into a telephone pole on the Calcutta road near Bloomfield about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident, according to Krug, occurred when another motorist attempted to turn into a side road on the left side of the main highway in front of him.

Sentence in Horst Case at Orrville Deferred.

ROY NOT FOUND Detective Ora Slater Resumes Search for Lad.

WOOSTER, O., March 19.—(INS)—Imposition of sentence upon Elias and Arthur Arnold, 63-year-old father and 17-year-old son, convicted kidnapers of four-year-old Melvin Horst, will take place Friday, it was announced today by Judge George A. Starn.

Originally scheduled for tomorrow, the judge announced that other court cases would interfere.

Prosecutor Marion Graven and Special Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey returned from Toledo today, where a boy thought to have been the child that disappeared from the streets of Orrville on the night of Dec. 27, was reported in custody of a family of foreigners.

Marshal Roy Horst, Melvin's uncle, who accompanied them, definitely established the fact that child was not his nephew.

Detective Ora Slater, whose work solved the Nesbitt case at Troy, and helped to find perpetrators of the Don Mellett assassination, also resumed his search for the missing lad today.

CITY ENGINEER AND HIS STAFF TURNED DOWN

Lawmakers Vote 4 to 3 Against Proposed Increases.

WILL BUY TRUCK

Grade Line, Improvement, Bond Ordinances Adopted.

Proposed salary increases for the city engineer and members of his staff were defeated by city council last night.

Compensation Measure Tabled. An ordinance increasing the salary of Engineer Flay Clapsaddle from $2,500 to $3,300 a year was rejected by a vote of 4 to 3. Councilmen Altman, Fleming and Ferguson supported the measure, while Members Green, Lindell, Frost and Hughes opposed it.

The other measure, fixing the compensation of four employees in the engineer's office, was "tabled" by a unanimous vote. The proposal fixed the salary of the field assistant at $6 1/4 cents an hour; junior engineer at 60 cents an hour; the assistant engineer at 90 cents an hour and the chief assistant engineer at $1 an hour. The present salary scale of the field assistant is 50 cents an hour and of the chief assistant engineer 75 cents an hour. Junior engineers and assistant engineers are not graded.

Six Measures Passed.

Six resolutions and ordinances were passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. They were: Resolution, authorizing the public service-safety director to advertise for bids for purchase of dump truck for water works department; ordinance establishing a new street, from Bradshaw avenue to Blakely street; ordinance establishing salary of substitute bailiff at $5 a day; ordinance levying special assessments for improvement of Diamond and Crook alley; ordinance to provide for issuance of $3,351.41 in bonds for East Eighth street and West alley improvements and Pease, Jackson, Ogden and Erie street sewers; ordinance, borrowing $795 to pay city's share for Erie street and Dewey avenue sewers.

The board also directed the clerk to advertise notices of assessments for improvement of Brady alley, East Second street, Briar alley, Orchard Grove avenue and Dresden avenue.

Two protests against assessments for the improvement of Oakwood avenue were filed with legislators. W. F. Mahoney and Brooks & Thompson, representing the Community Bank, asked reduction of assessments. The

NEED OF FAITH IS EMPHASIZED

Rev. Harry Rodgers, Speaks in Church
Of God.

Emphasizing the need of faith as the basis for the procuring of the individual salvation, the Rev. Harry Rodgers, of Cambridge, spoke at the Church of God revival service in West Ninth street last night. His subject was "God's Experience for Men."

Three persons acceded to the call for prayer at the altar.

Another lively period of song preceded the preaching by the visiting evangelist, it being directed by Miss Estella Sprotnan, of Kittanning, Pa. She sang as a solo: "I Want to Know Him Better." A number was also contributed by the choir.

Sermon Tonight.

Though he has not fully decided on his theme for tonight, the Rev. Mr. Rodgers will likely speak on "The Kingdom of God."

"God's greatest experience for man is the personal salvation that is possible for him by faith," the speaker said last night.

"If man will believe in Jesus Christ his sins will be forgiven him. Without faith it is impossible to please God. 'Who cometh to God must believe that He is a rewarder of persons.' It is also true that 'he who covereth his sins shall not prosper.'"

He declared that it is possible for the redeemed soul to know that he has been saved.

"There is a witness within which discloses satisfactorily this sublime fact," he explained. "The Spirit will bear witness with our spirit that we have passed into life that shall end- less be."

That one should not do that in which he entertained doubts as to his righteousness was declared fundamen- tal by him. "We must have recourse to our conscience when the Bible does not specifically say whether that in which we have doubt should be done or not," he suggested. "By constant study of the Bible our consciences will be so developed as to be able to dedicate that which we should do."

Rewards of Faith.

When we have salvation by faith the things that we shall feel are peace, joy, love and power.

"Animated by faith we shall have peace that is unperceived by those minus faith. This peace with the resultant joy and satisfaction that ever accompanies it are gifts of salvation."

He concluded his discourse by tim- ely advice to children, a number of whom were in attendance at the ser- vice.

NEW RULING HITS TURKISH CITIZENS

CONSTANTINOPLE.—As the prac- tice of Turks marrying foreign women is growing more frequent, the Na- tional Assembly has passed a law de- manding that government officials who marry women not of their own nationality shall immediately resign their posts.

Those already having foreign wives are to be removed from foreign, de- fense and naval departments.

MISSOURI PLANS HOME BREW TAX

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The lat- est wrinkle in revenue-producing leg- islation, a "Home Brew Tax" found its way into the legislative maw here this session.

According to William P. Elmer, Re- publican caucus chairman, and Gray Snyder, Democrat, authors of the prop- osal, the levy would produce $3,000, 000.

The bill seeks to impose a tax of five cents per pound upon all brew malt compounds and would be col- lected through the sale of stamps to retailers.

Same Day Settlement of Loss Claims

Proof of Loss Received

Voucher Check Mailed

WHEN you have a fire loss, the first and biggest question is how quickly you can get your insurance, in order to start rebuilding and get to going again. With a policy in the Central Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company, you have the satisfaction of knowing that adjustments are promptly and fairly made (that's Central's reputation), and, almost without exception, Central voucher checks for loss claims are mailed the same day proof of loss is received. There are no unne- cessary delays—you need your money and you get it—promptly.

It helps also to know that the protection that Central gives is of the very highest quality, that the Company is absolutely sound, and that Central's annual dividend (30% for the last eight years) reduces by that much the actual cost of your insurance.

War on "Hit-and-Run" Driver

Determined to put a stop to recklessness on city streets and rural highways, the Ohio legislature is now considering legislation which provides heavier fines and jail sentences for "hit-and-run" automobile drivers.

The pending bills have been prompted by records which indicate that the "hit-and-run" motorist has been getting the best of it in his violations of the law in large cities, and investigation probably would show that this is also true in smaller communities.

This situation is not confined to Ohio, for the National Safety Council does not give Baltimore a very good rating in this respect. During the first six months of 1928 there were 355 such cases in the Maryland metropolises. No arrests were made in 182 of the accidents, 82 cases were dismissed and 95 offenders drew fines averaging $29.93.

And during this period six pedestrians were killed.
 Three of the drivers have not been caught, one was dismissed and another was convicted and placed on probation and one case is still to be tried.

The "hit-and-run" driver is a coward as well as a menace on the public highway. If jail sentences are made part of the penalty for his despicable offense there will be less wantonness in traffic. A motorist who abandons an accident victim should be imprisoned, not dismissed with a nominal fine or a reprimand.

Sensible Changes

President Hoover already has abandoned two customs of the Coolidge regime—the daily reception of a long line of tourists and sightseers and the formal standing-in-line reception of distinguished guests. The first departure came into public notice through announcement;
 the second at the reception of the diplomatic corps last week. On that occasion, instead of greeting their guests as they passed by in line, the president and Mrs. Hoover passed from group to group, chatting informally until all had been greeted.

Certainly, the informality of the reception to the diplomats is infinitely to be preferred to the stiff formality of the method of greeting it supplanted. And just as certainly the reception of residents, tourists and sightseers one day, or possibly two days, a week is far better than the plan of daily receptions.

To say that the first cost of electing a president is at least $20,000,000 to the country is very conservative.
 It is probably twice that, for the expenses of all parties and the time of the individuals taking part in the campaign must be included, but let us put it at $20,000,000.
 The presidential term is four years, and hence we have in a president one whose original cost to the country is equivalent to $5,000,000 annually.

Can a man who costs $5,000,000 a year afford to take the time and effort necessary daily to greet a long line of visitors? The presidency, at the best, is a killing job. Should the extra strain of daily receptions be added to the burden of things and problems absolutely essential? Can the country, without considering the humane phase of the matter, afford to place this extra burden on a president? Can it afford to take from him this time which might be given to rest, to break the strain which is his from early morning to late at night and is often carried by him through the hours from dark to dawn? It may be urged that other presidents have stood the strain. Yes, and it helped to wreck the most of them. The case of Mr. Coolidge may be cited as that of one who apparently has suffered no ill effects from his tenure in the presidency. The answer to that is that Mr. Coolidge is one man in 120,000,000 capable of standing the strain, for the reason that he is probably the one man in all the 120,000,000, who, capable of holding the presidency, was not only designed by nature, but also self-trained to withstand the tension entailed by the presidency.

And it may be said that, in this respect, the dispositions of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Coolidge do not run side by side.

Lover Of Simple Life

It is safe to say that no "First Lady of the Land" ever made a better impression on the people of the land as a whole than Mrs. Grace Coolidge. It is a question if any ever made so good. Always pleasant, gracious, charming, she proved a splendid foil to her distinguished husband, who studied silence as an art during their stay of almost six years in the White House.

Mrs. Coolidge never talked for publication during her eight years' residence in Washington, and she has done precious little since she left the capital, but she has let drop certain little hints—which should heighten the high admiration and esteem in which she is held by all. She has let it be known that life in the White House, while far more spectacular, lacks much of the appeal of life in a private home, where a wife may be her natural self and not the player of an official part; that the White House House life, with its many restrictions erected by precedent, has not the charm of freedom which may be enjoyed by the housewife in civil life among friends and neighbors. And she has hinted that the simpler life has greater appeal to her because she loves the simpler things of life as she could never love its artificial-ties, and she can't understand why there is so great an inclination on every side to overlook the beauties of the simpler life for the artificial life so many seek and, in the seeking, spend more than they can afford.

Coming from some quarters, such views would not carry weight, but coming from one who has held the place Mrs. Coolidge has, such views, even though they may be conveyed only by occasional hints, should make an impression on a people who for years have been engaged in an orgy of extravagant expenditure. Mrs. Coolidge was admired as the wife of the president, and she is admired still more as the wife of Calvin Coolidge, private citizen.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

— By Frederick J. Haskin —

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—Consolidation of the agencies which take care of the aged and the disabled soldiers of the various wars of the United States, and also a simplification in methods of caring for our veterans, are reported to be among the changes in federal government procedure which will soon have the attention of President Hoover.

This program involves a combination of the Pension office, the veterans' bureau, and the National Soldiers homes, into a single study of the two or three theories of veterans' welfare now in force for veterans of different wars, with a view to deciding which general plan is best both for the veterans and for the government.
 After that it will still be a man's job to amend present laws so that any plan decided upon may be made to work with fairness to all concerned.

At present the federal government spends in the neighborhood of a billion dollars a year in the care and welfare of veterans of all wars. If the actual outlay is less than a billion, the accumulating liability for adjusted compensations from the World War will bring up the average over a period of twenty years to about the figure mentioned. This is the most expensive thing the United States government has on its hands—the care of veterans. It is likely to remain the biggest expense of the government for some years, unless we have an other war. In that case we will have more disabled veterans and again it will be the biggest financial responsibility of the government.

In seeking to consolidate and simplify the work of the government in caring for its responsibility to its veterans, President Hoover will not be acting in opposition to the interests of the veterans themselves. Their organizations are all, or nearly all, in agreement that the proposed consolidations and simplifications will be to the advantage of the beneficiaries of our various veterans' laws.

While but three major government agencies are involved in the early discussions of plans for simplifying federal procedure dealing with ex-service men, each of those major agencies has several major branches, and any effort toward their combination and simplification will involve very careful and thorough study. The present status and duties of these major agencies may be summed up as follows:

The pension office, which is a bureau of the department of the interior, handles the pensions for Civil war veterans, Spanish war veterans, and the veterans of earlier wars and of the regular army and navy, including veterans of Indian wars, and of special expeditions such as occupations in Haiti, Nicaragua, and so on. The pension office also administers the retirement pay of civilian employees of the federal government. The commissioners of pensions is an appointee of President of the United States.

The national home for disabled volunteer soldiers is actually ten homes. They are governed by a board of managers, who are appointed by the house of representatives. The board has seven members besides which the president of the United States, the supreme court, and the secretary of war are ex-officio members. The homes are located at Dayton, Ohio; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Togus, Maine; Hampton, Virginia; Leavenworth, Kansas; Marion, Indiana; Santa Monica, California; Danville, Illinois; Johnson City, Tennessee, and Hot Springs, South Dakota. These homes accommodate disabled soldiers of all wars, under laws governing the admission of veterans.

The United States Veterans' bureau, an independent office whose director reports directly to the president of the United States, administers most of the beneficial laws affecting veterans of the World War, including insurance, compensation for disability, adjusted compensation (bonus) law, disabled officers' retirement law, vocational training, and hospitalization. Its chain of hospitals extends from coast to coast, and it has branch offices in every part of the country.

Among the simple, direct, and obvious economies which the government may hope to effect by a study of the consolidation question will be to get the Soldiers' Homes and Veterans' Bureau hospitals under a single management. This appears to be plain common sense, since there must be hospitals at the homes, and there is a tendency, under present laws and conditions, for some part of the hospitals to become homes. A single management and centralized purchasing power would be economical. A single administrative power to separate hospital cases from domiciliary cases should also be effective. This step alone, however, involves a very careful legal study and well-planned act of congress, because there are numerous laws already defining the conditions under which various veterans of various wars may be admitted to various institutions.

The most complicated institution in the whole governmental scheme of veterans' care is the United States Veterans' bureau. Much of the intricacy of the laws governing its operation is due to the original plan of congress, expressed in the War Risk Insurance act of 1917, to do away with pensions for soldiers of the World War, and substitute a plan of compensations for disability received in the service.

Questions And Answers

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Q. Who was Don Caesar de Bazar? B. R.
 A. Don Caesar de Bazar is a character in the novel by Victor Hugo "Ninety Three." It is also the title of a French comedy founded on this story and of a comic opera by Massenet.

Q. How many parrots are brought into the United States in a year? J. R.
 A. Last year, 56,307 parrots were imported. Very few parrots breed in captivity in the United States, but the birds are usually long-lived.

Q. Is a canvas used in both boxing and wrestling bouts? A. A. M.
 A. A canvass is stretched over the floor of the ring for boxing bouts. During a wrestling match a similar canvass is used but it is more heavily padded.

Q. What is meant by corn stover? P. N.
 A. This is the name given to stalks, tassels, leaves, and shucks used in making pulp.

Q. What place does wheat hold in the diet of the American people? S. K.
 A. It contributes about one-fourth the calories of the American diet.

Q. Do passenger ships employ waitresses? E. B.
 A. The shipping board says that some liners employ women as waiters, but most of them employ men.

Q. How much gas did Lindy carry on his flight to Paris? O. R.
 A. Colonel Lindbergh started with 450 gallons of gasoline on his flight from New York to Paris.

Q. Will pine timber always die after worms get in it?
 B. L.
 A. It does not necessarily die.

NEW YORK Day By Day

— By O. O. McIntyre. —

NEW YORK, March 19.—The noon hour down town is a daily fete. Even wide streets are filled with sidewalk overflow and such narrow thoroughfares as Nassau are almost impossible. It is the brief relaxation for thousands of office workers and the spirit is distinctly Mardi Gras.

There are casual flirtations, curb skylarking, hastily organized quar-tettes, sidewalk fox trots and other hoop-de-doo indulged with a reckless, happy abandon. One of the big yearly events is the day all straw hats are smashed. Hawkers sell everything from balloons to long-egged dolls daily.

Many couples go to the cafeterias which offer music and dancing and prize cups to customers. The errand and messenger boys of Broad and Wall streets have innumerable ingenious hide and seek games they play among the crowds.

St. Paul and Trinity churchyards, even on chilliest days, have lunchers who have spreads on the decaying flat tombstones. And hand-holding lovers stroll through the ivy-clad paths whispering the oldest story among crypts of the forgotten dead.

An eager zest for excitement rears out of every building cranny—dice games, pitched pennies, Charleston contests, harmonica bands and such.
 On the windswept benches of Battery Park are sentimental secretaries and stenographers reading poetry and exotic volumes of romance.

Among hectic noon hour free recreations are street fiddlers, soap box orators, hurdy gurdies, peripatetic fortune tellers, advertising clowns on high stilts, magicians and window demonstrators. And on almost every corner is an argument. With a tolerant cop standing by.

Lower Fifth Avenue, dubbed Bolshiviki boulevard, is the parade ground for garment workers in neighboring lots. Newsboys screech midday Yiddish extras. Future Trotskyes orate. Push carts offer hot potatoes on a stick, parboiled seeds and an infinite variety of penny hot and cold drinks.

Lafayette street is to me the harshest street down town. It has a mean glower and the sullenness is accentuated by the constant rumble of trucks. An incongruous note of mirth is the tarnished statue of a gilded Puck over the entrance of the old Puck building.
 A few blocks away are Turkish baths which figured so prominently in the hunt for murderers of the gambler Rosenthal. And that depressing gray pile of stone with surrounding high spiked fence known as the Tombs.

 Around the corner is the famous Bridge of Sighs where through a slight patch of window bars pedestrians may glimpse grim white faces crossing over to the Criminal Courts building to hear their doom. The street also has many dim and fly-blown window shops whose displays never change.

In the recent ballooning of bank stocks many bank employees turned a pretty penny and quite a few now ride to work in their own cars. There is a belief most bank employees are not extravagantly paid. That may be, but with the yearly bonus at Xmas time it is much higher than generally known. They acquire thrift unconsciously as result of being so close to the accumulative magic of interest.
 When the unusual investment chance comes, they are ready, as was recently proved.

In the backwash of the Wall Street madness of several months ago are many who made their pile and quit at 30. "The Loiterers" is a smart upper Park Ave. club of about 20 young livers—chained to desks in financial houses a year ago.

Ethel Barrymore is reported still pouting with Edna Ferber and bows, if at all, stiffly from the waist when she passes the writer. "The Royal Family," an obvious caricature of the Barrymore clan, did not tickle Miss Barrymore pink. Nor is the agile Elsie Janis turning any of her joyous hand springs when she meets Miss Ferber. That story "Mother Knows Best" still rankles. This happens when one tries to fictionalize the truths of life.

It takes those ladies to whom you hand your cards at outer gates of offices to take out the tack. Somehow I had a conceited notion my name might be known at least a little in a certain haughty newspaper shop.
 Today I announced politely and so I thought rather impressively: "I am O. O. McIntyre!"

"Well," she half sighed, scarcely looking up from her copy of The Graphic, "I can't help that."

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

How much should a baby weigh and what should be done about it, if the weight is not right?

In one form or another this question comes to me very day or two. What is the answer?

When you are told that at a certain age a baby should weigh so and so, you must bear in mind that this is the average weight. The child may weigh less than the average, or more than the average, and still be a normal infant.

Indeed, it is a normal infant if it has an active heart, proper breathing, satisfactory digestion, clear skin, bright eyes and good appetite. The difference of a pound or two or three either way is of small consequence.

As a matter of fact, well-nourished children are likely to develop in about the same way. There is remarkable uniformity in their growth in length and weight.

The average boy at birth weighs 7 1/2 pounds and the average girl a few ounces less. There is quite rapid increase in weight during the first year.
 At the end of 12 months the average boy will weigh 21 pounds and the girl a half pound less.

These figures show a gain of 14 pounds during the first year. At the end of the second year another six or seven pounds will be added. In short, during the first year the gain is about a pound a month, but about half that during the next year. It is less in the third year.

The height or length, however you want to put it, runs along in a similar way. At birth the baby measures about twenty inches. There is an increase of nine inches the first year, five inches the second year and three or four inches the third year.

Once more, let me remind you, we are talking about averages. There may be quite material deviation from this scale with no reason for alarm.
 Babies differ as grown-ups do. Look at any group of full-grown men or women and see how they differ in height and weight.

The thing that really counts in the life of an infant, is its degree of nourishment. If it is well in every respect and measures up to those physical standards that we regard as normal, we need not worry about height and weight.

It is a pity that so many babies even in the homes of the well-to-do, are undernourished. They have low vitality and are ready victims of disease, if it comes along.

It is a sad fact that an infant may start out as a fine specimen of baby-hood. Within a few months the child starts to lose weight and may become "thin as a rail."

Almost invariably the weight declines. It may seem to melt away, so rapid is the wasting. Almost always improper feeding is at fault for this state of affairs.

Some infection or exposure to wrong hygienic conditions may be responsible. The digestion is disturbed and intestinal troubles follow.

The only way to bring up a child is by rule. Hit and miss methods won't do at all. Take my advice and talk with your doctor if the child gives evidence of ill-health. The young mother, with her first baby, needs advice and reassurance. Nine times out of ten, everything is all right, but don't worry over it—find out if all is as it should be.

When your child is sleepless.

This remedy rarely fails.

Constipation is a common cause of sleeplessness, both in children and adults. When a child is wakeful and fretful, see if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour, irritating waste. Simply give a dose of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels, and you have no more anxiety over the child's excitability and wakefulness at night. Children love this harmless "fruit" laxative. It banishes biliousness and constipation, regulates the bowels and insures pure blood, a clear complexion, joyous spirits, a keen brain, healthy appetite and helps to build a strong constitution.

See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name "California," so you won't be imposed on by imitators. Adv.

You Can't Dye a Dress with Promises!

You can't dye a dress—no matter how careful you may be—without real color. That's the idea behind Diamond Dyes. They are made to give you real service. They contain from three to five times more aniline than other dyes on the market.

Next time you want to dye, try Diamond Dyes. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare results. Note the absence of that re-dyed look; of streaking, or spotting. See how soft, bright, new looking the colors are. Then observe how they keep their brilliance through wear and washing. If you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes, your dealer will refund your money.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Put a "handful of health" in the muffins tonight

IT TAKES only a few minutes to make bran muffins if you use the famous ALL-BRAN recipe. Just try it. You'll get the lightest, fluffiest, best muffins you ever took from the oven. All the family will surely praise your skill that night!

And remember, you'll be helping them to better health at the same time. For so many foods are lacking in bulk or roughage. And it is this lack that so often causes constipation -- which in turn steals energy and health and may even cause serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. By serving it in some form every day you can protect your family. So many ways to serve it too. In waffles, breads. Sprinkled into soups. Mixed with other cereals. And, of course, with milk or cream, fruits or honey

ALL-BRAN Muffins
2 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder.
Cream shortening and sugar together, add egg. Mix and sift flour, soda, salt, and baking powder. To creamed mixture add ALL-BRAN, then milk, alternately with sifted dry ingredients. Pour into greased muffin tins, and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 20 minutes. Yield: either 8 large or 12 medium-size muffins. If sweet milk is used instead of sour, omit soda and use 3 teaspoons baking powder.

added, it makes a delightful breakfast dish.

Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's -- the original ALL-BRAN. Part-bran products, at best, bring part results. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Just eat two table-spoonfuls daily -- chronic cases, with every meal.

Sold by all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

important Hollywood actresses use Lux Toilet Soap

BETTY BRONSON, Warner Brothers' star, in the luxurious marble bathroom built in Hollywood just for her charming youthfulness. She uses Lux Toilet Soap not only in her bathroom, but in her dressing room on location -- wherever her pictures are being made.

The next time you see her in a close-up, notice how smooth this daintily fragrant white soap keeps her skin.

She says about Lux Toilet Soap: "A star must have smooth skin for the close-up. I find this lovely soap is wonderful for my skin."

Betty Bronson

"A smooth skin is a star's most prized possession," says JOSEPHINE DUNN, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star. "Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin perfectly smooth."

JOBYNA RALSTON, beautiful screen star, says: "A screen star must have utterly smooth skin for the camera. I find that Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin beautifully smooth and soft."

"SMOOTH SKIN is a perpetual attraction," says Allan Dwan, famous director -- and sums up what 39 foremost Hollywood directors have learned from the movies. "The kind of rose-petal skin which can pass the test of the close-up is the kind of beauty that gets the American public every time," he goes on to say.

It is for this reason that 9 out of 10 screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. They have found that it keeps their skin satiny and soft -- always. And all the great film studios have made this white fragrant soap the official soap in their dressing rooms.

Guigno Is Assessed $500 In Liquor Case

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Possession at Hearing Before Acting Mayor Clyde Baker; Given Until Wednesday to Raise Money.

WELLSVILLE, O., March 19.—Charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, Frank Guigno, arrested yesterday morning by Chief of Police John Fultz and Patrolman Jarvis, at a barber shop at 1103 Commerce street, last night pleaded guilty at a hearing before Acting Mayor Clyde Baker.

Guigno was fined $500. In his hearing before Baker last night, Guigno told the acting chief executive that another man had left the liquor in the rear room of Guigno's barber shop and had said that he would return for it today or tomorrow.

Police confiscated two 10-gallon containers of liquor, one three-gallon jug and two one-gallon jugs, or 25 gallons in all.

Guigno will be held until Wednesday, Acting Mayor Baker said today.

In the event that the prisoner's friends are unable to raise the amount of the fine to obtain his release by that time, Guigno will be taken to the county jail at Lisbon.

ASK DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENT

Barnett Holland, representing 32 property owners on the Wellsville-East Liverpool highway, yesterday presented a petition to the county commissioners asking that steps be taken to provide better drainage in the vicinity of Kountz avenue.

DONAHEY HITS STATE "RURAL POLICE" BILL

Former Governor Turns Guns on Session of Legislature.

LIMA SPEECH

Compliment is Handed Indirectly to Gov. Cooper.

LIMA, O., March 19.—In his first public address since he left office, former Gov. Vic A. Donahey, speaking before the Automobile club here, ridiculed the present session of the legislature, attacked the "rural police" bill and called upon the members to get down to "serious business."

"Just another tax-increasing measure," Donahey branded the police bill. "If the state legislature would quit fooling around with rural police bills and tax increasing measures and would pass a law to prohibit operation of slot machines, it would be doing a real service to Ohio," the former governor declared.

At the same time, Donahey handed a compliment indirectly to Gov. Cooper.

In talking about the police measure, Donahey stated that Gov. Cooper had warned the general assembly against passing the bill, but that it would do it anyhow.

Donahey reiterated his statement that he was through with public life.

In concluding, the former Democratic chieftain said that there were two happy men in Columbus on Jan. 14. They were Mr. Donahey, who was glad to get out, and Mr. Cooper, who was glad to get in.

NEW "BLUE-SKY" MEASURE TOPS SENATE LIST

Herbert Bill Provides Additional Safeguards For Investors.

HOUSE "ON AIR"

State Office Building Proposal Before Lower Branch.

By C. H. Haddox
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 19.—The Herbert "Blue-Sky" bill, amending the statute regulating the sale of securities, is at the top of the list of measures scheduled to be called up in the senate this afternoon.

This measure seeks to throw additional safeguards around Ohio investors and to save them from buying worthless securities. It would specify what securities may be sold in this state and provide further supervision by the state over the sale of securities.

Deliberations of the house today were radioed over WLW Cincinnati and WEAQ Columbus, as a feature of the "School of the Air," under the direction of the state department of education.

The house this afternoon is to consider the question of concurrence in senate amendments to the Roke-Morgan bill providing for a state commission empowered to buy, or build, a state office building.

Bills on House Calendar. Bills scheduled to be called up in the house today on a question of passage include: The Emory bill, requiring persons who sell more than one carton of cigarettes at a time to pay the wholesaler's cigarette tax; the Carpenter bill, providing for a municipal court at Steubenville; the Ehrlich bill, requiring boards of education to admit wards of children's homes to the local public schools without charge; the Emmons bill, providing for establishment of Bowling Green and Kent state colleges; the Derr bill, raising the age limit of female prisoners at state prisons from 16 to 17 years.

Bills which passed the house last night are: The Ackerman bill, authorizing colleges and universities, granting liberal arts and science degrees, to appropriate property for expansion purposes; the Myers bill, authorizing villages and townships to contract with cities for fire protection; the Summers bill, extending the time when assessments are to be paid for constructing county ditches, and the Hansen bill, removing the restriction on the number of main tracks that may be maintained by railroads.

All of these measures go to the senate except the Ackerman bill which, having passed the senate, goes to the governor.

TARIFF REFORMS TO BE SPEEDED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—Anxious to limit tariff reform in the new congress as a step toward limiting the number of changes and toward shortening the time necessary to enact the bill. Administration leaders fear an all-simmer session if the tariff reforms are unlimited and therefore plan to approve only such industrial changes as are necessary to protect American manufacturers against foreign competition.

The tentative program eliminates all public hearings on the bill in the senate as a step toward limiting the number of changes and toward shortening the time necessary to enact the bill.

JURY IN THAW CASE DEADLOCKED

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—The jury in the $100,000 damage suit brought by Marcia Estardus against Harry K. Thaw for alleged injuries inflicted by him at a New Year's eve party, two years ago, failed to reach a decision. It was revealed this morning when a sealed verdict returned last night was opened.

Miss Estardus announced immediately after the jury was discharged by Justice Schmuck that she planned to ask for a new trial. The new hearing will be held during the May term of court.

PATH OF DEATH REVEALED AS FLOODS RECEDE

Appalling Spectacles of Destruction in Alabama.

30,000 HOMELESS

Casualty List Placed at 100 in State by Governor.

BY HENRY LESENE,
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTA, March 19.—Flood waters were receding in the southeast today, revealing appalling spectacles of death and desolation in their wake.

In ravaged portions of Alabama, where something like 30,000 persons are homeless, rehabilitation has started in scattered places. However, a few other Alabama areas are still in peril.

The ultimate death toll in the southeastern flood sector was still undetermined. An official estimate by Gov. Bibb Graves' office put the Alabama casualty list at more than 100.

Later, after making a 600-mile tour of the stricken ends of the state by airplane, the governor declared an additional number of dead were reported at Brewton, Ala.

He said when his plane flew over Brewton a big "K" was displayed on the Red Cross field there. This sign means "persons killed." No funeral accompanied the sign.

Forty-one deaths have been confirmed in ten states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi. The list by states is: Alabama, 24; Georgia, 15; Florida 1; Mississippi 1.

Squadrons of airplanes from Montgomery, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla., today continued to drop provisions, blankets and clothing to isolated communities.

Pay Boosts Hit

requests were referred to the claims committee.

City on Street Bill.

A committee of property owners requested the city's assistance in paying for the recent Ninth street improvement. R. B. Stevenson, spokesman, said that the property owners understood before they petitioned for the improvement that the cost should not exceed $175 a foot, whereas it had been nearly $3. The complaint was also referred to the claims committee.

The Ohio Bell Telephone company, through C. H. Swift, commercial manager, advised council that the proposed removal of a pole in West Ninth street would be considered as soon as the company had "something definite to offer."

Property owners in Walnut street, representing 2,609 feet frontage, submitted a petition, requesting that the street be "resurfaced with suitable paving material" instead of a new improvement. The petition asked that the old paving be retained as a base. The petition was filed.

Service-Safety Director Moore was instructed to negotiate for a lease on the municipal courtrooms provided that funds are available to redecorate and paint the interior.

George C. Thompson, pottery manufacturer, in communication from Florida, requested the council defer action granting the Pennsylvania Railroad company permission to construct a third track system through East Liverpool until arrangements can be for an overhead crossing at Broadway. His letter was ordered filed.

Council directed Clerk G. A. Shone to write the county commissioners asking that they move part of a truck body which is obstructing traffic near West Eighth street and Shady side avenue.

Barking Dogs Ruled Nuisance.

TOLEDO, O., Mar. 19.—Barking dogs don't bite, but they do keep people awake at night, according to members of city council here. They are seriously considering passing an ordinance declaring that dogs who bark at night shall be declared a nuisance and their owners subject to a fine of from $10 to $50.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—The scramble for profits in the industrial stocks carried prices of many of the market leaders down a point or two at the beginning of trading today, but there were enough advances in the list to make the market extremely irregular in the first hour.

Prices of the market leaders dropped back in the first period, with losses of 1 to 3 points. Radio new at 9:50 showed a loss of 3 1/2 points from yesterday's close and 13 points from the peak of the move. Anaconda slipped off a point to 162 and Steel common lost 1 1/2 to 185.

Buying orders were ready to pick up the active stocks at the low levels, and the second period produced moderate recoveries. Baldwin Locomotive carried its advance to 258 on split-up rumors. Stock sales in the first half-hour were slightly below 6,000,000 shares.

St. Joseph Lead, American Steel Foundries, Tobacco Products, Columbia Graphophone and other speculative favorites pushed ahead vigorously in a heavy turnover. The bulls had the upper hand and rode their favorites hard, while the bears put up only a fight.

MRS. HOOVER'S EASTER CHOICE

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Soft French blue or an equally delicate shade of green will predominate in Mrs. Hoover's Easter ensemble, the inquiring reporter discovered today. A printed dress and a solid color coat will, in all probability, feature the new first lady's attire for the big promenade day of the year.

An exact description of Mrs. Hoover's Easter finery could not be obtained because, as it was explained, "it all depends on the weather." Blue and greens, however, are catching her eye and she is said to be especially partial to them.

$150,000 FIRE IN ZANESVILLE

ZANESVILLE, O., Mar. 19.—Zanesville's largest pleasure house, the Palace Gardens dance hall, was a mass of ruins today, following a $150,000 fire which swept the building yesterday and for a time threatened to wreck havoc in the entire downtown district. The conflagration is said to have started in the basement from defective wiring. It is believed to have smoldered in debris for several hours before it broke out into devastating flames.

HOOVER SEEKS SUMMER HAVEN

WASHINGTON, March 19.—President Hoover will not carry out the Coolidge plan of establishing a summer White House at Mount Weather, Virginia, it became known today.

Instead, the new president is looking around for his own summer recreational spots and has already centered upon two of them—in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

A presidential fishing ground is to be established in Madison county, Virginia, at the headwaters of the Rapidan river, which lie within the confines of the new Shenandoah National park.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

DIPHTHERIA SYMPTOMS.

In speaking of the advisability of early treatment whenever diphtheria is suspected a physician says that it is of tremendous importance because anti-toxin may save life, while if the recognition is postponed the disease often proves fatal despite all treatment.

For this reason—and particularly as applies to children—whenever chills or convulsions occur, accompanied by vomiting, running nose and fever the physician should be immediately called.

The advantages of early treatment are so tremendous in such a wide variety of diseases and troubles that there is only one safe rule to follow under all circumstances.

Whenever illness occurs call the doctor at the first indication of trouble.

LONDON.—Attempts by Germany to wrest the speed record for trans-Atlantic crossings from the Cunard liner Mauretania are destined to meet with stiff opposition from British shipping.

Determined not to permit the new German liners Europa and Bremen to "walk away" with the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, the Mauretania has been especially refitted in secret, to enable her to compete with the great new engines installed in the two German vessels.

Opposition Expected.

Designers of the Europa and Bremen, it is pointed out here, expected opposition from the new Cunard and White Star liners now under construction, and the Mauretania, which has held the speed record since 1907, has been left out of the reckoning, because her maximum speed has been known to be 25½ knots, while the German vessels will be capable of 27.

Cunard engineers, however, have prepared a surprise. With her new fittings, she will be capable of an astonishing increase in her speed from 25½ to 28 knots, and possibly beyond this, it is said. The ship's own engineers believe that, with favorable sea conditions, they can maintain a steady speed of an even 30 knots.

Engines Rebuilt.

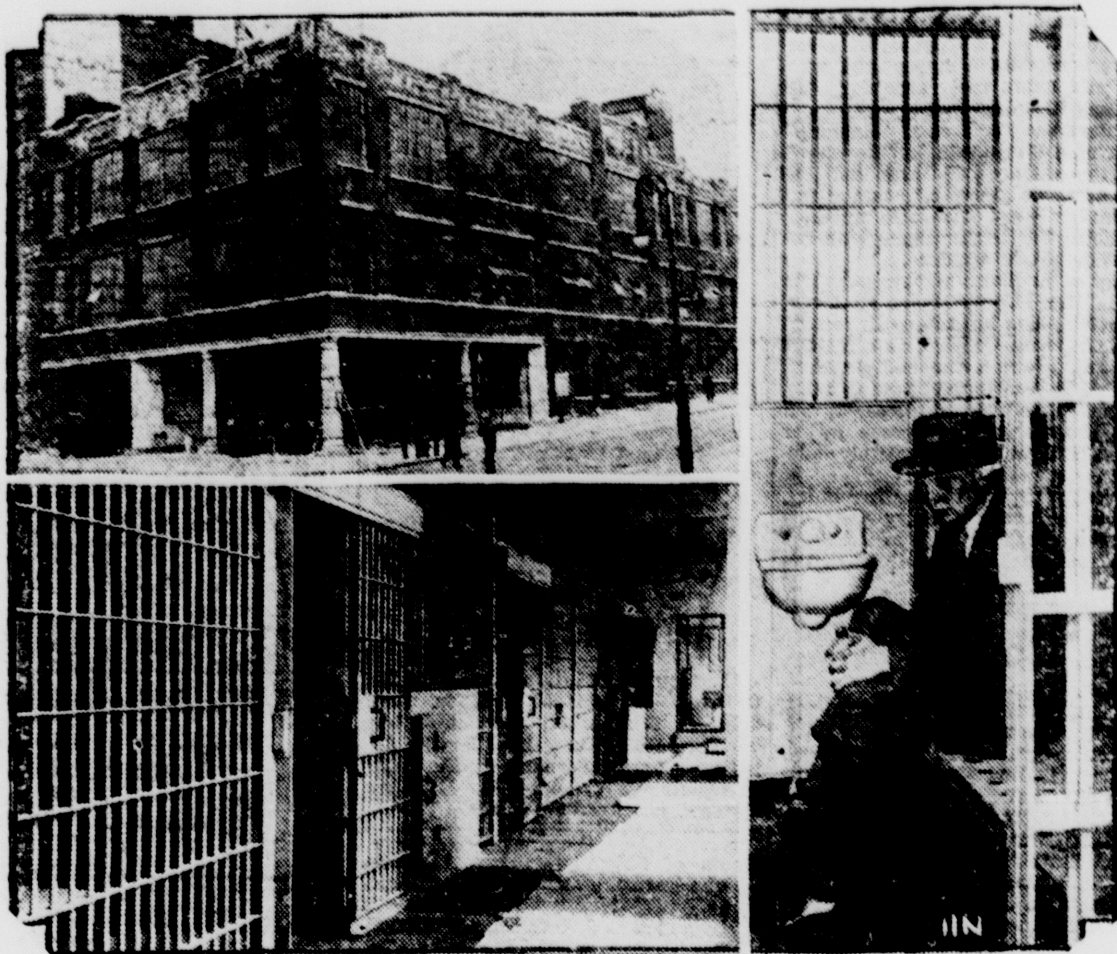

These increases in speed have been made possible by a partial reconstruction of the vessel's engines. During the Mauretania's recent two months overhaul at Southampton, the condenser plant was reconstructed and rotary feed pumps were installed in place of reciprocating feed pumps. These changes were to effect a quicker condensation of steam and a swifter feeding of water to the boilers.

They will enable the ship to retain for days a head of steam which she has hitherto possessed only for short bursts of a few hours.

Roman Villa Unearthed.
For the first time Roman villas with their original interior woodwork will be seen by the public when it is admitted to the new excavations at Herculaneum. Professor Ventimiglia, who is digging out the seaside mansions of the ancient rich from the bed of volcanic mud and lava, says there is nothing in Pompeii that equals these displays. The most important recent find has been a three-story villa. While the woodwork is charred and fragile, in some rooms those on the ground floor are said to be in an unusual good state of preservation. In a cell-like bedroom is also the narrow bed of wood, now carbonized. It has a raised low head panel and footpiece flush with the framework, similar to some bedsteads of today.

HERE IS RENT FREE APARTMENT FOR SCOFFLAWS

How about a nice newly furnished apartment? Rent free. All you have to do is pack a pint of the alleged firewater in your hip pocket. Walk around New York in just such a manner that a prohibition agent can see what you have with you and like as not you'll be locked up on the fringe of Greenwich Village in the "Federal

House of Detention." Don't forget that for all its euphonious name it is just as hard to get out of as the ordinary garden variety of hoosegow. The span new brick building, top, greets your eye at 12th street and 11th avenue. No the man in the cell at the right isn't a scofflaw, but shows how one of those modern critters would look in his new quarters. The cell block, left, gives one the idea the government expects to entertain many guests in this their first of many prohibition prisons. Seriously the Federal authorities expect to save much money over the old system of paying the keep in city prisons of Federal law offenders.

TRAFFIC POLICE HEAD ACQUITTED

BUDAPEST.—Thomas Kappel, commander of the traffic police in Budapest, killed Dr. I. Szuecs, lawyer, while riding a motorcycle through the streets of the capital.

He claimed that partly the slippery, ice-covered street and partly the carelessness of the victim caused the accident, and was acquitted of a charge of homicide. The court has, however, fined Chief-traffic-officer Kappel about $500 for violating the traffic regulations.

Doctors Resent Club's Plan.

Medical men of Europe are resenting the suggestion of the German Automobile club that doctors willing to assist after traffic smashes should have a distinguishing mark, such as a red cross, on their cars. Doctors declare that experience has shown that services rendered to auto victims are rarely paid for. The victims, they say, usually have little money after paying hospital fees, the guilty persons escape, and the insurance companies refuse to acknowledge the debts. This is said to apply in practically all European countries. Doctors declare that the matter should be taken up by the various governments who might pass laws demanding that motorists be insured in some way that covers the doctor's fee.

CANCER DEATHS HIGH IN NATION

IOWA CITY, Iowa.—Cancer is killing 115,000 persons annually in the United States, according to Dr. Norman F. Miller, of the University of Iowa College of Medicine.

The death rate from the disease, declares Dr. Miller, is about one in three. It has increased 47 per cent among men and 21 per cent among women in the last 15 years. Ninety-eight per cent of its victims are more than 20 years old.

Cancer, in Dr. Miller's opinion, is neither contagious nor inheritable.

Cocktail Meets in Paris.

Following the success of the recent contest to decide who was the best amateur cocktail mixer in Paris, a championship for professionals has been held. The event was held in the Apollo theater, and harken from all the leading thirst-quenching establishments in Paris took part. Seven cups were offered as prizes. The jury was composed of distinguished Frenchmen, including Pierre Mille, the well-known novelist. A large crowd cheered the favorites on to victory. The winning cocktail at the amateurs' contest was curiously but significantly named "Forty Oxen." The cocktail contest idea has taken so well that mixers of other drinks may have competitions of their own.

FIRE SIREN WILL BE TESTED DAILY

ALLERTON, Ill., March 19.—Fire or no fire, the siren here is to blow at noon daily.

Recently the siren failed to shriek when a building caught fire and the structure was burned to the ground. Now the city dads have decreed that the siren is to be tested daily.

During a recent auction in Glasgow, Scotland, 30 people fell 12 feet to the basement when the floor collapsed, and three were taken to the hospital.

The Silent Partner of Every One

THE stabilizing effect of Stock Fire Insurance in our commercial structure is of such importance that business paralysis would certainly follow its elimination—or impairment.

Fire insurance so effectually safeguards the home, factory, and store, and contributes such an element of certainty to all enterprises in which men engage, that it is well termed the Silent Partner of all.

Protection may be secured from Stock Fire Insurance Companies against loss or disaster caused by fire and the elements—wind, water, hail, earthquakes—as well as riots and civil commotions and other causes.

These companies also issue policies protecting against property damage, loss of profits, losses due to interruption of business, loss of rents or valuable leases, loss of goods in storage, or in transit by motor, aircraft, railroad, steamship, or other carriers.

Business runs more smoothly and economically, credit is stabilized, and fewer hazards accompany every business process because of the more than $150,000,000,000 constantly at risk in the protection of American property holders.

The 229 Stock Fire Insurance companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters realize that their business is interwoven with and related to all other business; that it is a balance wheel whose steady revolutions are essential to the general good.

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation.

"REDSKIN" PROVES AMAZING PICTURE

A new chapter has been written in the history of the motion picture. A new wonder has been revealed. "Redskin," the new Richard Dix epic of the West, which opened for a three-day run last night at the Ceramic theater, marks an amazingly wonderful step forward.

Beautiful scenic backgrounds are revealed in all their true color and beauty. The hills and valleys of the Indian country are reproduced for the screen just as the eye sees them in nature. And the powerfully gripping story, true to Indian tradition and customs, unfolds in this native setting.

A master cast enacts this drama. Richard Dix, who made such a tremendous success of his picturization of "The Vanishing American," turns his thoughts to the serious drama again and records a new masterpiece worthy of place with his previous enduring epic.

The power and majesty of music and the cleverly reproduced sounds effects increase the realism of the picture. Here, indeed, sound can be measured for its true worth and the whole combination of color, sound and story make an emotion-stirring picture which will not soon be forgotten.

her romantic moments. Miss Del Rio's histrionic skill and gift of character delineation find opportunity for full expression as a gypsy girl who tames wild bears and men for the sheer joy of taming them.

In "Resurrection" and "Ramona" she played a tragic role. In "Revenge" she is the essence of charm and fire as the adorable gypsy heart-tamer and even in her most dramatic nuances accentuates her performance with delightful humorous touches.

A cast of brilliant players supports Miss Del Rio. Leroy Mason as Jorga, the bandit, plays his role with romantic realism. Rita Carowe, as a jealous gypsy girl, gives a finished performance that is human and sympathetic. Jose Crespo, as a young dreamer, and James Marcus, as the screen father of Miss Del Rio, are entirely adequate.

"Revenge" is an interesting story, told with pictorial artistry that delights the eye, and with a dramatic tenacity that stirs the emotions of the heart.

THRILLS MARK "LAST WARNING"

"The Last Warning" is at the American theater, with Laura La Plante in the starring role.

It is a riot from start to finish. All the ghostly things that can happen do happen in this greatest of mystery photoplays. For sheer suspense this is the finest piece of Art the director, Paul Leni, has ever turned out.

There are thrills and chills galore. You have your screaming audience—breathless silence as danger lurks in the offing then riotous laughter, a laughter of relief, which literally rocks the house.

Laura La Plante is delightful in the starring role. There is a murder—in fact, two murders—a haunted theater and ghosts warning a theatrical company not to stage their show.

Miss La Plante has never been more beautifully photographed. And as a versatile actress, the little blonde comedienne is in a class by herself.

There are some splendid performances in the supporting cast, notably those of Montagu Love, as the producer, Roy D'Arcy, as the leading man, Margaret Livingston as the former burlesque queen, John Holes as the understudy and many others, including Bert Roach, Mack Swain, Burr McIntosh, Wm. Carlie Daumery, Slim Summerville, Buddy Phelps, D'Arcy Corrigan, Charles French, Tom O'Brien and Fred Kelsey.

MISS DEL RIO WINS AS GYPSY

A gypsy romance of fire and passion, baroque in its surging emotions, colorful as a Romyany costume, hitting as a Romyany rhapsody, glamorous with romantic charm, dynamic in its dramatic sweep—that is "Revenge" presented last night at the State theater.

"Revenge" is another triumph for Dolores Del Rio, the star, for Edwin Carowe, the director, and for Filmis Fox, the scenarist.

Beautiful in costumes of baroque splendor, imperious in exercising her will over man and beast, tender in

Nervousness and Stomach Disorders Conquered By Owa-Ton-Na

Constipation and Headaches Together With a General Run Down Condition Had Miss Catherine Morris at the Point of Despair — Tells How This Fine Old Indian Herb Remedy Returns Her Health.

You folks who are sick and ailing and in a run down nervous condition, nerves in such a condition that you must constantly guard yourself to keep from snapping at everyone with whom you come in contact, will find in the story of Miss Catherine Morris, 811 poplar street, Steubenville, Ohio, news which will quickly aid you in removing this condition. Scores of people daily call on the special laboratory representative who is introducing this fine old Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na, at Carnahan's Drug store, in this city, East End and Newell.

Many calls each day to tell of the remarkable results Owa-Ton-Na has given even in cases of long standing. No matter what you have tried without results, this Remedy contains the secret which even present day science has been unable to fathom. Results with Owa-Ton-Na are not obtained with the use of doping, harmful drugs but by the use of roots, herbs, barks and berries, blended in the same manner as originally done by the Indians.

Miss Morris' case is but one of thousands which report equally startling benefit. She says: "Time after time, I had tried medicine after medicine to overcome a constant nervous condition that I suffered with. Although I am only 28 years old, I was getting to the point where I didn't know what to do. I didn't have any appetite and food, whenever I ate it, just gave me indigestion and terrible sourness and gas. Gas would form and crowd my heart and make it flutter, sometimes making it very hard for me to get my breath."

"I was always constipated and the terrible headaches I would get made my head feel as though it would split. Many is the time that I would just have to force myself to go to my work in the morning and all day long I felt miserable. I had heard before about the wonderful results that people in different sections of the country had had with this Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na; and when I started to take it, I had great hopes that it would be the medicine I was looking for."

"You can imagine my surprise

when even the first bottle rid me of that terrible nervousness. My bowels started to act regularly, food didn't distress me, and gas and bloating spells which used to crowd my heart left me. Now I have a wonderful appetite and can eat anything. It is almost unbelievable that one bottle should make as much difference in my condition. The directions advise that I take this medicine long enough to get my system in good shape and I am going to continue; because if I keep improving the way I have in this short time, it won't be long until these troubles are completely gone. I certainly recommend this fine old Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na, to anyone who suffers and I know they can not make a mistake in at least giving it a trial."

Owa-Ton-Na is being introduced at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 E. 6th street, East Liverpool. Call today and have a talk with the special laboratory representative and learn for yourself the merits of Owa-Ton-Na. Owa-Ton-Na is also sold at Carnahan's East End and Newell, W. Va. stores.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Monter, Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ruff and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur and daughter, of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Betz and children, George Wallace and children and Mr. and Mrs. William Bates of Yeagley's Corners, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wallace and daughter of Freeburg.

A birthday surprise was given in honor of Miss Betty Jane Willard at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Willard of Homeworth. Her girl friends from the seventh and eighth grade of the Homeworth school were present. Miss Betty was the recipient of a number of lovely gifts.

Mrs. Earl R. Thomas, who underwent a serious operation at the Alliance City hospital, has been brought to her home here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Wells Faulkner, 59, a former resident of Homeworth, who died at the home of her nephew, Robert Scott, of Long Beach, Calif., were held at Canton Thursday afternoon. Interment at Canton. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Maria Brooke of Homeworth and a number of nieces and nephews.

Billie, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braid, died in the home at Magnolia Thursday. Funeral services were held at the Bethel church, northeast of Homeworth, Saturday afternoon. Burial was made in the church cemetery. Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braid, one sister, Dorothy, and one brother, Daniel.

Mrs. Charles Meeks of Homeworth underwent an operation for eye trouble at the Alliance City hospital Friday.

A number from this vicinity attended the annual school picnic at Mt. Pleasant. A large crowd was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Geiger entertained members of the "500" club at their home, Green Gables Inn, Saturday evening.

Ray Stoffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoffer, former resident of Homeworth, who has been ill at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stoffer, of Freeburg, has been taken to the home of his parents at New Franklin.

Mrs. Esther A. Ruff, who had been spending the winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of Lima, Pa., has returned to her home in North Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Grimes visited Sunday in Alliance.

Today 1,260,000 people in Great Britain are receiving poor relief, as compared to 795,000 in 1913.

COMMISSIONERS O. K. NEW ROUTE FOR SUMMITVILLE HIGHWAY JOB

Bids Will be Sought Within Few Weeks for Hanover Township Construction Work.

LISBON, March 19.—With a new route determined upon, bids will be sought by the county commissioners within the next few weeks for the grading and construction of drainage structures on the Summitville-Kensington road in Hanover township.

The commissioners discussed a proposed new road between Gavers and Dunganon, but after a new route had been located by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk between Summitville and Kensington, the Gavers-Dunganon road proposal was deferred.

The new route will connect with the Lincoln highway at Kensington, and will give a direct road from Kensington eastward to Salineville, thence to Wellsville and East Liverpool.

A hearing was held before the commissioners Monday afternoon relative to damages sought by abutting property owners on the Salineville-Kensington road. Because of the low amounts suggested by the property owners, assurance was given that the road will be built along the designated seven-mile route.

This new road will open up agricultural territory in Hanover township and Franklin township.

THAWS DAMAGE COX HIGHWAY

Large sections of the Cox highway between the East Liverpool-Youngstown road and a section toward East Palestine, have been damaged by the recent thaw.

East and west traffic lanes have sunk as much as six inches, while the brick outside the lanes have been turned on edge.

Several sections of the Unity-Petersburg macadam road have also "ex-ploded."

The Cox highway along damaged sections will be lifted and the road rebuilt. This road is under state highway maintenance.

Concrete highways built during the last few years in Columbiana county show no damaged sections.

Portions of the surface treatment on the Lincoln highway in Madison township have become pulverized, causing sharp bumps.

RULINGS MADE IN FOUR SUITS

Sales have been confirmed, deeds ordered and distribution decrees entered in two foreclosure actions filed in common pleas court by Bah D. Hamilton against Kate B. Hill and others.

A similar entry has been made in the foreclosure action filed by the Potters' Savings & Loan company, against Lydia M. Ashbaugh.

In the partition petition of Eleanor Giles against William Bush and others, a like entry has been made. Counsel fees have been allowed for the guardian in this suit.

A continuance until March 25 has been granted by the court in the case of the National Bond & Investment company against H. C. Milligan.

Judgment for $998.22 and costs in favor of the Perpetual Savings & Loan company of Wellsville has been given in its foreclosure action against James W. Stevenson. A decree of foreclosure has been entered.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been filed for record at Lisbon: Frederick Sheets to Sarah Cannon, lot 703 in Grandview addition, East Palestine, $1.

W. J. Barlow, as sheriff, to People's Savings & Loan company, lot 18 in Arter's addition, Lisbon, $3,000; People's Savings & Loan company to Della Breneman, same tract, $1.

Affidavit for transfer of real estate inherited from Tillman C. Stock by Helen Allison, part of lot 1 in Evans first addition, Salem.

Edith Campbell to Jesse Getz and wife, 25.70 acres in section 5, Perry township, $10.

Ebbert M. Bates and wife to Harvey D. Bates and wife, land in section 25, Perry township, $1.

Clara B. Dunn and others to Theodore Ursu, part of lot 946 in Appraisers' addition, Salem, $550.

John J. Goling and others to Mary Lanovitz, three lots in Grandview addition, Lisbon, $1.

Two Damage Claims Settled.

Two damage actions filed last December in common pleas court against Frank Adell have been settled out of court at the cost of the defendant. The first suit was filed by William J. Caldwell, who sought to recover $1,000, and the second by Nora Caldwell, who asked $750 as a result of an accident.

TWO DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Tillie Cunningham, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband, Harry Cunningham, Chester, W. Va. They were married March 10, 1907, and have four children ranging in age from 16 to 21 years. Gross neglect of duty, extreme cruelty and habitual drunkenness are charged.

Mrs. Cunningham also alleges that her husband has spent his money in riotous living.

James Roach, an inspector for the Pennsylvania Railroad company, at Wellsville, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Roach, who, in addition to seeking a decree and alimony, asks the court to award her attorney fees. They were married March 15, 1922, and have one child. Mrs. Roach charges in her petition that her husband knocked her down and kicked her, and that on last March 12 he choked her, threatened her life and left her. Roach receives a salary of $299 a month from the railroad company, the petition says.

Judgment for $1,401.24 Entered.

Judgment has been entered in favor of the Farmers' & Merchants' Banking company against John R. Young for $1,401.24 and costs on a cognovit note.

Man Given Jail Sentence.

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Isaac Lee has been sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail by Judge Lodge Riddle in juvenile court.

Receiver Named in Foreclosure Suit.

M. K. Krauss of Salem has been appointed receiver by Judge W. F. Jones in the foreclosure case of the First National bank of Salem against J. B. Gunesch. Bond has been placed at $500.

Mrs. Catherine Goode Neglected.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, Mrs. Catherine Goode has been divorced from her husband, John Kirby Goode. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, Katherine Smith.

The world we live in

TODAY the world is literally at our doors. A spin of a dial, and we listen to the President in Washington, or a football game in San Francisco. From our talking machines the greatest of operatic stars sings to us, the foremost dance orchestras play lively syncopation of our choosing. Our automobiles stand ready to whisk us over smooth boulevards to new scenes. Monday is no longer blue; the family washing is done by electricity; so too is the cooking, and the preserving of food, and the sweeping of floors.

Yes, the world we live in has changed . . . changed marvelously for the better.

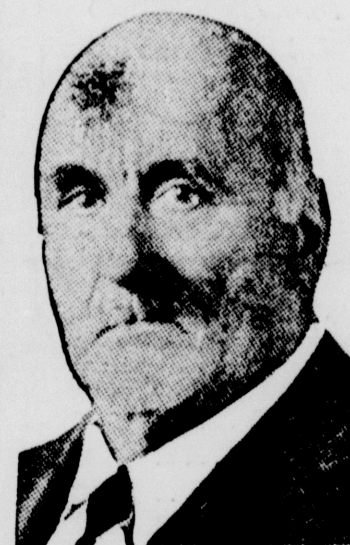

Have you ever stopped to consider the part advertising has played in this change? Glance over the advertisements in this newspaper. How many of the products mentioned are old friends of yours, familiar because you already own them or intend to get them soon! And the articles in your own home. Every one of them, probably, is advertised, either here or elsewhere. The chances are you first learned of them through the advertisements.

Advertising is important to you because it keeps you informed of the changes in the world. It tells you of new products, of improved designs and workmanship and materials. It helps you to spend your money wise and well. It points you to the better things of life.

Advertising is the herald of progress.

FOUR ILLS ARE SWEEPED AWAY BY MODERN KONJOLA

"First and Only eRelief I Ever Found Was in This New Medicine," Says ofrmer Sufferer.

MR. FRANK DENTON.

"There were so many things wrong with me that I did not know which was the worst," said Mr. Frank Denton, 19 Morrison street, Ashtabula, Ohio. "I had stomach and kidney troubles, and rheumatism and neuritis. I suffered such terrible agonies after eating my meals that I missed a lot of them simply to escape the suffering that I knew would follow. My kidneys caused extreme pains across my back, and rheumatism effected every part of my body. Not a thing helped me, every medicine and treatment I tried was a complete failure. 'The newspaper endorsements of Konjola attracted my attention, and I wondered if this new medicine would help me. Well, just three bottles made a new man of me in three weeks. My friends marvel at my activity and appearance, and ask me what in the world I have been taking to make me look so well. You can bet that I tell them that Konjola deserves all the credit. I do not wonder that this is called the master medicine with a million friends.' Konjola is sold in E. Liverpool, Ohio, at Carnahan drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—adv.

HE WOULD LIE AWAKE NIGHTS FOR HOURS

Catarrh of Head and Stomach Almost Wrecked This Man's Health.

Pays Glowing Tribute Now
to World's Tonic

"For fifteen long years I was practically all the time suffering until I began taking World's Tonic and I suffered agonies with my stomach. For hours after every meal I was racked with pain from head to foot and nothing seemed to relieve me until I took World's Tonic, which I now recommend to everybody else.

"For honestly, I think it is the grandest medicine on earth," said Mr. P. W. Pence of 2725 5th ave., Beaver Falls, Pa., in a recent letter to the World's Tonic home office. "Pains in my stomach bothered me and usually it seemed that I had a lump in my stomach. The food I ate did not taste good, my appetite was very poor and I also suffered from Catarrh of the head. Mornings I would wake up with my nose all stopped up and it would require sometime to remove the dry scabs that had formed during the night. I would spit up a great deal of mucus. I became uneasy for fear this catarrh might turn into something worse.

"Many said I suffered from ulcerated stomach which they said was the reason I had indigestion all the time and fluttering of the heart. Being in this condition so long got on my nerves and I would lie awake for hours at night and was hardly able to work the next day. I went this way day after day, week after week, without getting any relief until World's Tonic came into my home. What a blessing it has been for it saved me many hours of good sleep and worry and it has put me in condition so I am able to work with vim.

"I can now eat anything I want without any bad after effects and the catarrh in my head is about gone. In fact, World's Tonic has done everything I claimed for it and I had to use only five bottles to obtain all this good result."

Hoak Stops Local Boxer By K.O.; Other Lodge Bouts Go Limit

McCarthy Outpointed By Welch

Angelo Wins; Mitchell Kayoed by Hoak At F. O. E.

FIGHTING cautiously in the clinches, modifying his usual flailing attack to a half defensive plan of warfare but electing at times to whale sweeping lefts and rights to the stomach and ribs, Teddy Welch, McKeesport welterweight star, nosed out a decision over Jack McCarthy, Pittsburgher, in the eight-round feature event at the Eagles' arena here last night.

Scheduled to fight tonight in Cumberland, Md., Welch probably was afraid to follow his usual toe-to-toe slugger methods, in order to keep his mug in shape.

At that, however, the battle had its moments and, all in all, sized up as a fine exhibition.

McCarthy was largely on the defensive, choosing to wait for Welch's leads but the Irishman never backed-pedaled when the McKeesporter rushed him and, in addition, showed an active pair of gloves inside. As a result, the pair mixed it pretty lively on numerous occasions, although no damage was done.

Welch played pretty lively on McCarthy's body and the latter's skin was well scored before it was over. Welch occasionally crossed a right to the head but McCarthy shook them off and jabbed back.

Young Angelo, Swissvale, Pa., won from Patsy Gallagher, Pittsburgh, in the six-round semi-final. The lightweights lacked damaging punches but Angelo got the nod because of his aggressiveness and his efforts toward forcing the fighting in virtually every round.

Why a boy with a good Irish name like Patsy Gallagher should be backward about fighting is more than mystifying but such was the case. There was plenty of inside fighting and while the Swissvale lad tried hard and swung often he didn't have quite enough of a wallop to toss off a knockout.

The Ray Mitchell-Jess Hoak four-rounder was of short duration—about two minutes to be exact, when Hoak cut loose a swinging left that landed in Mitchell's midsection.

Mitchell sparred for a few seconds and then dropped, claiming a low blow. He was examined in his corner but Referee Al Watson refused to allow the claim.

Bobby Waldeck, Charlelot, shaded Jimmy Duffy, New Kensington, in the four-round opener. Duffy slowed up in the last two rounds after making a good showing against Waldeck in the initial stanzas.

In Training Camps

Lloyd Waner Accepts Terms. SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Lloyd Waner, smaller of the "poison twin," has accepted terms with the Pittsburgh club and wired from Oklahoma City that he will leave at once, it was announced here today.

It was intimated that Lloyd accepted at the original offer made him, but it was not stated that the offer was at the terms he held out for. It was also surmised that big brother Paul would join up as the Pirates swing through Oklahoma within the next two weeks.

Lazzeri Hitting .600. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19.—Manager Huggins of the Yankees intends to take his entire squad of 35 players north with him, with the possible exception of two rookies as yet unidentified.

The world's champions resumed their series with the Boston Braves today. Tony Lazzeri, with a mark of .600, has compiled the best batting average in exhibition contests to date.

Rookies May Make Grade. CLEARWATER, Fla., March 19.—Observers at the Brooklyn camp agree that the four rookies who stand the best chance of making the grade with the Robins this season are Outfielders Nick Cullop and Johnny Frederick and Pitchers Clise Dudley and Jim Richardson. Dudley, however, "telegraphs" his curve ball by grunting every time he throws a hook, and is practicing self-control to remedy this weakness.

Giants in San Antonio. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—The New York Giants were back in CHESTER, W. Va., March 19.—Although unable to turn in a majority of wins during the basketball season just closed, Chester high school cage teams feel the foundations have been laid for improved basketball in the seasons to come.

There was no basketball at Chester high school all of last year by reason of the fact that there was no place to play. As a result, the school dropped back in its cage athletics and faced a tough job this season when the game was resumed.

Coach Keightley's boys, team won four out of the 16 games played, the team as a whole showing wonderful improvement toward the end of the campaign, while the girls' squad, in its eight contests, lost six and tied two.

San Antonio today and will stay here until they break camp on the 29th. The Giants chalked up their seventh straight win yesterday by trouncing Beaumont, 8 to 3. Pitcher Carl Hubbell and infielder Eddie Marshall, former members of the Beaumont club, were in the New York line-up.

Indian Grade School Baseball Tallest Passers Near Session Cage Team Semi-Finals Planned

Redskins, Here Thursday, Average 6ft. 4 in., a Man.

BOASTING a 1927-28 record of 54 victories out of 74 games in 15 different states in which they traveled over 12,000 miles, playing the best clubs available, and a 1928-29 record to date of 61 out of 64 engagements, the World Famous Indians, the tallest basketball team on the books, will make their third appearance in East Liverpool Thursday night when they clash with Nate Lippe's Ceramics in the season's independent wind-up.

The Redskins outfit, headed for a brief tour of Ohio prior to disbanding in Larue, their headquarters, came in at the last moment and inasmuch as the squad, composed of real Indians, is one of the outstanding aggregations on the road today, the locals booked them for a special encounter.

It is possible they will make East Liverpool their headquarters for a three-game sortie in the district. Contests in Midland and Toronto are in prospect on Friday and Saturday nights.

The team personnel consists of an outfit of human skyscrapers, five men averaging six feet, four inches.

First of all there is Tiny Hearn, who shoots up into the air seven feet. He, of course, is the tip-off man. He starred last season with Georgia Tech.

Then there is High Sky, six foot, five inches, of the Sac and Fox tribes; Red Fox, five foot, 10 inches, of the Senecas; Light Foot, six foot, two inches, of the Cheyennes; and Tomahawk, six foot, three inches, of the Wyandottes. All of them, save Hearn, are graduates of Haskell university, where they starred in athletics.

A Highly Amusing Story of a Romance
Aboard a Millionaire's Yacht.

By Arnold Bennett

Not a soul in the watching and participating crowd could guess why the principal players had so far forgotten what was due to their plutocratic rank as to sink to the miserable level of the sun ball and the thirty-six numbers. Nevertheless, the explanation was simple. Mr. Sutherland knew not the principles of baccarat, for in youth his education had been neglected.

The croupier at one end of the table had little to do, whereas his partner at the other end, at which the Baron and Septimius were playing, had rather more than he could manage, with the result that the spins were delayed. At this end the numbers were thickly covered with token money of the highest denominations, which both the opulent ones put down carefully, rapidly, and quite unsystematically. The onlookers, according to the wont of onlookers, would have followed the Baron's leads, but it was almost impossible to do so, owing to his deplorable lack of system. If he consistently won, and he did, it was not from any merit, but because fate had decided to reward the rash. If Septimius consistently lost, and he did, he was only getting his deserts.

The Baron was excited and apparently displeased; Septimius achieved and kept a marvelous bland tranquillity. Once the Baron staked the maximum on zero, and Septimius plastered half the numbers with plaques. Zero was thrown. The croupier swept a fortune off the numbers in a single swoop of his rake, and then swept half of it toward the Baron. A second time the Baron staked the maximum on zero, and Septimius plastered half the numbers again. Zero was thrown.

"Confound it!" muttered the amazing Baron, while the audience thrilled to the unique strangeness of the sight. "Lend me another hundred thousand, will you?" asked Septimius agreeably and placidly. "That will make three hundred and fifty thousand, won't it?"

The Baron in gloomy silence passed a great pile of tokens to the croupier, who passed them to Septimius, who counted them with the rapid precision of a bank cashier, and went on playing anew.

Then the great calm of Septimius was broken. His eyes gleamed; he waved a hand. He had seen Miss Harriet Perkins. Placidity had vanished from his features, but it had given place to ecstasy. He lost and lost with rapture. Among the audience the suspicion began to take shape that Septimius was a lunatic. How could the poor dull souls divine that he was enjoying the rich and novel sensation of utter recklessness under the gaze of a woman for him was peerless. For a few minutes he had been staggered at the amount and the swiftness of his losses; he was far in the way of dropping half a million francs. But he had soon recovered his perspective. Half a million francs came to less than four thousand pounds, and though he was hardly a millionaire, he could well afford to squander four thousand once in his life for the sake of an unexampled intoxication of bliss. He knew that he was alive. He glanced at his watch.

"Three minutes past the half-hour," he said across the table to the Baron.

"They had arranged to play till 12.30."

"And a damned good thing, too!" growled the Baron, gathering up his multitudinous tokens and walking away.

"Change these for me," said the Baron, noticing the Honorable Luke in the crowd.

Enter Count Veruda

The evening's entertainment was nearly at an end; but there remained the pleasing agitations of rumor. Before the players had got ten yards away from the table the gossips were asserting that in their opinion—and they had watched the table closely—Mr. Sutherland had lost not far short of a million francs, and Lord Furber won as much, or possibly more. Being every one of them Anglo-Saxon, they might have stated the sum in pounds or dollars, but they did not do so, because if they had done so they would have been deprived of the magic word "million," which was honey to their tongues.

They also pointed out to one another that, had Mr. Sutherland not been playing, Lord Furber would have broken the bank, and that Mr. Sutherland's presence was, therefore, to be regretted. What a drama missed; the breaking of the bank by a millionaire!

Lord Furber stopped.

"How much have ye there, Sep?" he asked, indicating the paltry store of tokens which Mr. Sutherland held in one hand.

"Two thousand and ten," said Mr. Sutherland, without counting.

"Give me the two thousand, will you? We'll reckon up afterward."

The Baron took the two thousand and returned to the table. A dozen quidnuncs returned with him, in the sure expectation of seeing the fatal results of chance upon a fascinated fabulous winner who thought that he might as well win a little more. Lord Furber handed the two thousand to the head guardian of the table.

"Change these," said he. "And divide the money among the table staff."

The head guardian, who had been feeling depressed, brightened.

"Thank you very much, My Lord."

"Seems to me it's I who ought to do the tipping," said Septimius gaily; and the audience was confirmed in its conviction that the man was a perfect lunatic.

"Why! There's Count Veruda!" murmured Mr. Sutherland. And indeed the tall, full figure of the Count was approaching, with all the old air of superiorly enjoying a secret joke which nobody else was capable of perceiving.

Harriet, who had moved aside, out of the question vision of Septimius, wondered what would happen at this first meeting of the two men since the dinner given to the guests of the Splendid. Her own encounter with Veruda in Rome, had not been satisfactory to her because somehow she had not succeeded in mentioning their previous meeting at all, and Veruda's bearing had given no sign whatever of the constraint which usually follows a misdemeanor found out.

She advanced toward the three men, speculating as to the nature of the business which had so quickly brought Veruda from Naples to Monte Carlo. But she realized that all suspicions, if she had any, were absurd; Veruda was now merely resuming duty as one of the Baron's private secretaries.

The Baron nodded to his minion as negligently as though they had not been parted by a monstrous and inexcusable event for which they were equally responsible.

"Ye know Count Veruda, Sep?" said the Baron. "Indeed I do!" Septimius blandly exclaimed. "And I'm delighted at this opportunity to apologize for an omission. I never thanked you, Count, for the really marvelous banquet which you offered me, with others of course, in your magnificent yacht. I don't think I ever enjoyed a dinner more." He shook hands with the host of the historic repast. That was all.

Count Veruda blushed. His face was ruddy as always; but the blush was marked enough to intensify its glorious carnation. At this juncture Mr. Sutherland's eyes at last discovered Harriet.

"I've had the time of my life," he said with enthusiasm, turning eagerly to her. "The time of my whole life!"

"I'm so glad," said Harriet simply; she was touched by his extraordinary naive enthusiasm.

And then the Honorable Luke appeared with a wad of French bank notes as thick as his arm.

"These right?" Lord Furber questioned, taking possession of the wad.

"Yes, sir."

Lord Furber stuck the bundle into his pocket.

"Don't let me keep you here," said he gently to the Honorable Luke. "You've had a heavy day."

Exit Luke.

It was an order of dismissal from the rooms. Luke glanced at Harriet, a glance of supplication and despair. But Harriet was devoting herself to Septimius; she seemed to be absorbed in Septimius. The Honorable Luke waited, hesitated, scowled and departed.

"Hello, Harriet!" the Baron greeted his housekeeper casually, as if till then he had been unaware of her presence.

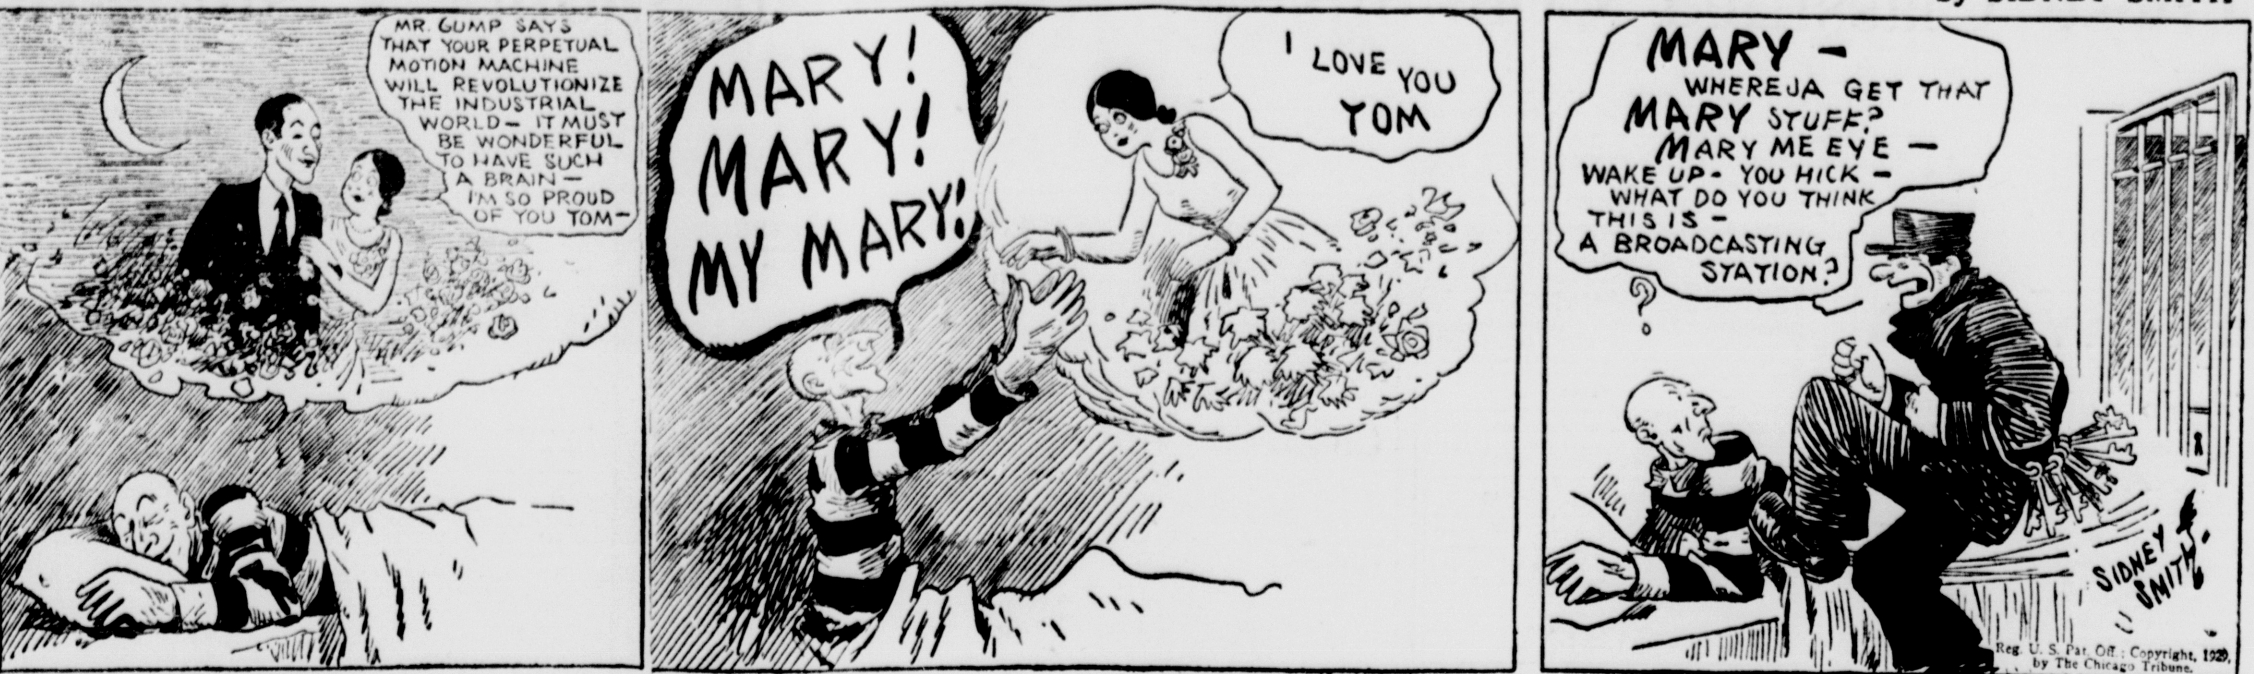

"Hello, Ralph," she answered in kind.

Did he know that she had been nearly an hour late at the rendezvous? Or didn't he? Not equal to the feat of looking at him without any self-consciousness, she went on with her talk to Septimius.

And Septimius, by his mood, provided a magnificent distraction, a distraction so complete that Harriet failed to notice the dejected vanishing of the Honorable Luke.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2— In Memoriam
IN MEMORIAM
One year ago today our dear Wife and Mother died, March 19, 1928.
Mother now has left us.
So we must come to weep.
And think of what is promised
Where we all hope to meet.
Her pleasant face we see no more,
Her body lies at rest,
And her immortal soul will reign
Forever with the best.
So now, dear husband, dry those tears,
Why longer need to mourn?
For what a home on earth has lost
Is gained around the throne.
MR. G. J. HILLIARD AND FAMILY.

EAST END ACCEPT LORD, PASTOR URGES

Rev. R. C. Beechley
In Penn Avenue
Pulpit.

Advising against delay in deciding the giving of one's life into the care of the Lord, the Rev. R. C. Beechley, pastor, stressed the scriptural affirmation that now was the accepted time for so doing at the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church revival last night.

He spoke from 2 Cor. 6:2—"Behold now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation."

In addition to inspiring congregational singing a Sunday school class of young girls, taught by Mrs. Beechley, sang "Answer Yes." They were accompanied by Miss Dorothy Brooks.

John the Baptist's query from his prison cell to Christ: "Art Thou He or look we for another?" will form the scriptural basis for the Rev. Mr. Beechley's discourse tonight.

"God never makes the mistake of promising that salvation is for tomorrow," said the pastor. "Always His every reference to it is in the immediate present."

"The future brings the most to the person who improves the present. This is true in commercial activities. It is equally so in the realm of religion. Unless something is now done to merit salvation in the future it will steal upon one without its attainment. The past has left us never to be utilized again and the future is not our own. We have but the present. And if the present is not used for the bringing about of salvation it can not be guaranteed when we reach the future."

LENTEN SERVICES HERE WEDNESDAY

Lenten services will be held tomorrow night in St. Ann's Catholic church, Pennsylvania avenue, in charge of the Rev. Father J. L. Maurer. Services will consist of the rosary, sermon and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Stations of the cross will be recited Friday night.

Prayer Meetings Wednesday. Prayer meetings will be held tomorrow night in the Second Presbyterian and Second United Presbyterian churches.

Rev. Morgan Revival Speaker. The Rev. Brooks Morgan preached last night in the revival into the Oakland Free Methodist church, Holiday and Walter street. Meetings will continue during the remainder of the week.

Crowd Attends Revival. Large crowd attended the revival last night in the Second Church of Christ in charge of the Rev. W. T. Howells of McKees Rocks, Pa. Meetings will be held every night until Easter Sunday.

"HOLY SPIRIT" SERMON TOPIC

Jesus Leads Us to Truth,
Rev. S. E. West
Says.

Four persons went to the altar following the sermon by the Rev. S. E. West, pastor, at the Free Methodist revival, Avondale street, last night, when he spoke on "The Holy Spirit."

He will be given a respite in his preaching tonight when the Rev. L. C. Andre, formerly of Wellsville, but who this year is remaining for an interval of rest in East Liverpool, will deliver the sermon.

"Unless we know that the Holy Spirit is a person, and not an influence as some surmise, it is impossible to give Him the reverence that He deserves," declared the Rev. Mr. West. "There are those who also deny personality to the devil. But the people who have had a change of heart know that the Holy Spirit is a person."

"It is known that the devil can change his personality, but notwithstanding he is the same old fellow."

"When Jesus comes into our lives He leads us to all truth. And thus the Holy Spirit becomes a teacher, a comforter, one who guides and reproves. There is no salvation separate from Him. He is a revealer of the God head."

"Before salvation every man is right in his own eyes. When the Holy Spirit shows us that we are sinners then we realize that we have been blinded by sin."

"When our eyes have been finally opened we see clearly the things of God. It takes the Holy Spirit into our darkened hearts and reveals unto us the sin therein hidden."

Education permits us to know many things, but it is the Holy Spirit which discloses to us the good from the bad in our lives.

"The Holy Spirit applies the blood of Jesus Christ to our souls, making mankind spiritually clean."

"The heart is thus renewed; we must have something to keep us from doubting."

"And we may have a clear witness that we belong to God in that the Holy Spirit will lead us our earthly ways."
